

10.6.10 Packet Tracer - Back Up Configuration Files

1. Issue the command to display the current configuration.

QUESTION: What changes were made?

- The configuration stored on the TFTP Server was loaded into the router and the hostname of the router changed to RTA.

2. Issue the appropriate show command to display the interface status.

QUESTION: Are all interfaces active?

- No, G0/1 is administratively down.

3. Backup the IOS in flash to the TFTP Server using the following command:

QUESTION: What special character repeatedly displays indicating that the IOS file is being copied to the TFTP server successfully?

- The exclamation point (!).

4. Open the TFTP Server and click the Services tab, select TFTP, and scroll through the list of IOS files.

QUESTION: Has the IOS file c1900-universalk9-mz.SPA.151-4.M4.bin been copied to the TFTP Server?

- Yes, the c1900-universalk9-mz.SPA.151-4.M4.bin file is listed in the files on the TFP server.